Information Title:

Wood Stain Recalibration

Information:

To compensate for subtle migrations in color and value that have occurred over time, and to improve the consistency of wood stain among commodities, suppliers were asked to recalibrate their wood stains to match fresh control samples.

Accordingly, rostrum millwork, doors, and pews received after May 1, 2007, will be in the recalibrated stain. While efforts have been made to ensure that all commodities will arrive in either the “pre-calibrated” stain or the “recalibrated” stain, there may be instances when they do not. In these instances, the recalibration has been slight enough that commodities should nevertheless coordinate just fine even if one is slightly darker or lighter than the other.

PLEASE NOTE: It is not expected that the wood stain on all commodities will be an exact “match,” nor that they will match exactly the enclosed control samples being provided for your reference. Subtle variances between control samples and actual product will always occur due to variances in wood grain, quality of wood, and the different staining processes required by different commodities. It is expected, rather, that they will coordinate overall and be close enough in appearance so as not to draw undue attention to themselves.

Remember: Because the color of control samples may change as they age, architects and PM’s should request fresh stain control samples when working on new projects rather than rely on old samples (samples more than 2 years old). Requests should be directed to DeeAnn Williams at 801-240-2472 (williamsdc@ldschurch.org).

Enclosed:

Stain control samples: LDS 95, LDS Cherry, Oak 110 (distributed to APM’s and PM’s only)
